NON-AGGRESSION PACT WITH THE REICH REPORTED TO BE OFFERED IN HITLER'S MESSAGE TO TURKEY

Reply Is With Minefields And Ever-increasing Vigilance

BELIEVED YUGOSLAVIA NOT CONTEMPLATING JOINING AXIS IN IMMEDIATE FUTURE

ACCORDING TO A REPORT FROM SAIGON, HERR HITLER'S MESSAGE TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE TURKISH REPUBLIC OFFERED A NON-AGGRESSION PACT WITH GERMANY.—(SPECIAL).

TURKEY IS REPLYING TO HITLER'S NOTE NOT WITH WORDS, BUT WITH MINEFIELDS AND WITH EVER-INCREASING VIGILANCE, STATES A MESSAGE FROM SYDNEY.

So far only a few German troops are reported to have reached the Turkish border. There are no further reports from Greece, though the Greeks are obviously 'uneasy' at the news, but German armies are approaching their northern frontier.—(Special)

THERE IS NO REASON TO BELIEVE THAT YUGOSLAVIA CONTEMPLATES SIGNING THE TRI-PARTITE PACT IN THE IMMEDIATE FUTURE, STATES A LONDON MESSAGE.

A Decisive Contribution To Victory

LONDON, Mar. 7 (Reuter)—Conviction that North America was going to make a decisive contribution to victory was expressed by Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, the new High Commissioner to Canada, speaking in London at a luncheon. Referring to "this precious island," Mr. MacDonald said: "Locked here and guarded by an immortal generation, the British citizens are the hopes of all free civilised men. At our head under the King is the Prime Minister, the chief constable of the tower of freedom."

TO ONE MAN
"I hope Mr. Churchill will forgive me if I borrow one of his phrases to say, 'that never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to one man.'"

Referring to the Empire Air Training scheme in Canada, Mr. MacDonald said that ten of thousands of young cadets were now exercising their wings until they came flying over like vast migration young eagles circling, punching upon and killing their wretched prey.

INCREASE IN WAR BONUS

LONDON, March 7 (Reuter)—Non-industrial civil servants, earning no more than £350 yearly, are receiving an increase in war bonus. Bonuses will vary according to grades from four shillings to 10 shillings weekly, whereas, at present, the maximum is five shillings.

MUSSOLINI TO USE SPARE TIME

A Rome report quoted in a Sydney message states that Italy has a new Minister of Justice. Signor Benito Mussolini, adds the message ironically, has decided to use his spare time from the duties involved in his work as Minister for External Affairs, Minister of War and Ruler of Italy, to take up this new post. It will be remembered that Italy's last Minister of Justice was sent to the war in Albania.—(Special)

HEAVY GUNFIRE IN PACIFIC

According to a Sydney message, a lighthouse keeper in the Straits of Magellan, Chile, reports that he heard the thunder of heavy gunfire in the Pacific.

There is no confirmation of this from any other source, but it is possible that British warships have caught up with a German raider.—(Special)

It is reported that the Axis air-liners in South America under present ownership are a threat to the United States, according to a London message. A Bill authorising the purchase of the airlines by the U.S. Government has been introduced.—(Special)

Prince Paul, Regent of Yugoslavia, on Thursday received Dr. Matchek and also had conversations with the Prime Minister and Army leaders.

In Belgrade an official statement was issued on Yugoslavia's attitude towards the Balkan situation in view of alarming rumours circulated by foreign sources.

Meanwhile, Turkey's attitude to Hitler's message is one of complete indifference.

SOFT WORDS
Berlin and Rome are joining in a symphony of soft words with the object of telling Turkey that she has nothing to fear from the German occupation of Bulgaria.

An American commentator stated that the Note was very lengthy. A Rome broadcast stated that Turkey would benefit from what Rome calls stabilisation in the Balkans.

But Nazi methods are well known in Turkey and all precautions continue to be taken.

MASS MOVEMENT
LONDON, Mar. 7 (Reuter)—The march of German troops into Bulgaria is now assuming the proportions of a mass movement towards the Greek-Bulgarian frontier, stated the Ankara radio last night.

All means of conveyance, including trains, lorries and buses, are being utilised. The announcer suggested that Germany was out to fight Britain wherever she found it possible to do so and was "doubtless seeking the weakest point in the British chain of defence."

It was added that Mr. George Rendel, British Minister to Bulgaria, would not be leaving Sofia for another two or three days.

ALWAYS BE READY
ISTANBUL, Mar. 7 (Reuter)—"The Turks must always be ready to take up arms," says the deputy, M. Yalchid, in the newspaper Yeni Sabah, commenting on what he calls the "flagrant contradiction" between the reported Nazi assurances to Turkey and the rapid advance of German troops in Southern Bulgaria.

"Germany is now Turkey's neighbour and, therefore, the Turks must be ever more vigilant."

ANOTHER FIREWOOD SHIPMENT EXPECTED

"I am expecting another shipment of firewood within the next ten days or so," said MR. W. J. ANDERSON, Stores Controller, when interviewed by a Hongkong Daily Press reporter yesterday.

"From next month, I will be having shipments arriving at closer intervals than three weeks as, by then, arrangements made will be working smoothly."

SOLD TO SHIPS

Asked as to how the last shipment (4,000 tons) was distributed, Mr. Anderson stated that the wood was sold to 883 shops scattered all over the Colony and included those at Aberdeen and Cheung Chau, at 50 cabbies to a dollar. Each store was, however, only allowed between 60 and 70 tons.

The task of distributing the stock, went on Mr. Anderson, took only five days to complete.

"I purposely distributed the wood over as wide an area as I can," continued the Stores Controller, "so as to defeat any attempt that might be made to corner the market."

THAILAND DISPUTE MEDIATION CONFERENCE VIRTUALLY ENDED

New Borderline To Be Demarcated By Commission Says Tokyo

The mediation conference for settlement of the dispute between THAILAND and INDO-CHINA has virtually concluded, states a London message.

A Japanese Government spokesman revealed at a Press conference in Tokyo that the new borderline between Thai and Indo-China will be demarcated by a Border Commission, though it is not yet decided in what capacity Japan will join the commission, says Reuter.

The spokesman gave an affirmative answer when asked if all possible causes of Franco-Thai differences were eliminated, and hinted at the closing session of the conference that when the agreement will be signed and made a public affair with Press representatives admitted.

The stage is set for the signing of the accord solving the five-month old Franco-Thai border dispute following a complete French agreement with the Japanese compromise proposal, obtained as the result of a series of three hurried 11-hour conferences between Mr. Matsukata and M. Arsene Henry, French Ambassador, it is officially stated.

SUNDAY'S SOFTBALL:

Two "Needle" Matches Down For Decision

FORMIDABLE TASK CONFRONTING CANUCKETTE HURLER MARY NG BY "R.O.Y."

IN CONTRAST TO THE DRAB FARE THAT HAS BEEN THE LOT OF SOFTBALL ENTHUSIASTS during recent weeks, tomorrow's programme of five matches at the Kowloon Football Club, will include the deciding match of the Ladies' league and a critical match in the First Division championship.

The Wahos and Baby Panthers will open the card at 10 a.m., and these long-standing rivals should provide a fitting curtain-raiser for the needle games that follow. Hal Wing Lee's Green Owls are out of the pennant race but have lost none of the great enthusiasm that has been the main feature of their displays and should account for Cesare Xavier's Panther Kittens who, after a promising start, do not appear to be nearly as dangerous as they were at the start of the season.

The Wildcats-Canuckettes battle-royal is scheduled for 11.30 a.m., and a capacity crowd is expected to be on hand when these two squads take the field to battle for the custodianship of the Southard Shield.

Mentor Abe Liu of the Wildcats will muster Thelma Colloco hurling to Cynthia Motta, who will be backed by an infield composed of Doris Mar of Dolly Brown at the initial sack, Irene Pereira at second, Gloria Mar at the Hot Corner and Lily Mar at shortstop. Gardeners will be Mary Mar, Virginia Chu and Margaret Young.

The Canuckettes will line-up star hurler Mary Ng supported by Dot Louie behind the pan, Renie Yuen at the first station, Lilian Khoo at the keystone, Rosie Louie at third and Alice Mar at the Windy Alley with Lily Lee, Mavis Chang and Jay Wong patrolling the outer gardens.

Although the Wildcats won fairly comfortably in their first meeting, the Canuckettes can be depended upon to give an improved showing in defence of the title that they won last season. Much will depend on the ability of Mary Ng to check the Wildcat sluggers who, it must be admitted, have a definite edge over the Maple Leaf hickory wielders.

MEN'S GAMES

Best and most important of the Men's games will be the St. Joseph's-Indians fracas at 1 p.m. The league-leading Jolite Joes will have their hands full with Ahwoo Omar's Indians who having been treading on the former's tail feathers for most of the campaign, but a victory here will probably give Choppo Omar's Collegians the Kwok Ying Shield as their only other outstanding fixture is against the Recreio Aces whose championship squad of last season has been sadly depleted by injuries.

A bitter fight is expected as a win for the Indians will put them in a tie for first place, but it is extremely doubtful if the Indian lads can overcome the oppositions greater all-round strength.

EXCELLENT MATCH

Another excellent match should be the Chinese-Baseballers-

Cyclones tangle which goes on at 2.15 p.m. The former are not in much danger of slipping further down the ladder even if they lose the rest of their games but would feel much safer if they could garner some extra points.

The Cyclones too are firmly entrenched in the middle of the league standings but are fighting hard to obtain a footing in the upper half of the tables.

The Mohawks will also be seen in action and take the field against the cellar-dwelling Canadian Chinese at 3.30 p.m. Although it looks fairly hopeless, Bill Wood's Canucks are still trying to garner a point before the campaign ends and may well give the flashy Baseball Club outfit a trying time. Manager Chuck Waggoner though, has evidently gotten over his penchant for taking chances and will line-up his strongest squad for this seemingly easy outing.

INTERNATIONAL SERIES

With the end of the regular league season in sight, plans for the staging of the International Series are in hand and the Management Committee have appointed the following to organise teams for this annual competition:—England (J. Welford and Hemsley); Scotland (R. Phillips); Ireland (O. Leonard and Gillespie); Portugal (H. Noronha and H. A. Barros); China (Abe Liu and Leung); India (A. M. Omar and Markar); America (C. Waggoner and F. J. Molthen); Malaya (K. Nazarin and Bakar); Canada (Dave Walker and J. J. Higgins); Philippines (L. R. Hideson and D. Amper).

THE PROGRAMME

"Dust Be My Destiny"

At Majestic

Co-starred in the great American drama of the lost generation, "Dust Be My Destiny" showing tomorrow at the Majestic Theatre, are John Garfield and Priscilla Lane, the romantic lovers of "Four Daughters" and "Daughters Courageous."

Prominently featured in the cast are Alan Hale, Frank McHugh, Billy Halop, Bobby Jordan, Charley Grapewin, Henry Armetta, Stanley Ridges, Moroni Olsen and John Littel.

John Garfield, the young Broadway actor whose first film role in "Four Daughters" won him immediate acclaim as a dramatic actor of the highest calibre, gives the most brilliant performance of his career as the boy.

Priscilla Lane offers another heart-stirring, true-to-life portrayal as the girl who takes to the road against all odds with the man she loves. Both stars are utterly believable in their roles, a fact which adds immeasurably to the heart-piercing power of the story.

Why does blood clot? Because of the heparin that it contains. When that discovery was made heparin was used to save many a sick bleeder.

Now comes Dr. L. B. Jaques of the University of Toronto, in Science, with the important announcement that the clotting power of heparin is not the same in all animals. The heparin of dogs is about two and a half times as powerful a clotter as the heparin of cattle and ten times as powerful as that of sheep.

The discovery makes one wonder whether the clotting power of heparin may not be an indicator of fighting ability.

A dog is a good fighter; a sheep is not. Can it be that the blood of all fighting animals clots more readily than that of the more pacific animals?

If this is so, does clotting power vary in human beings, so that it becomes possible to decide by a heparin test which of a hundred men is most pugnacious?

to the heart-piercing power of the story.

R.A.F. Offensive In Every Theatre Of War

LONDON, Mar. 7 (Reuter).—"The air war" gives THE TIMES opportunity to recall editorially the "truly astonishing fact" that the R.A.F. is able to take the offensive in every theatre of war.

The paper recalls also that the Imperial Air Forces by vigorous offensive, destroyed in the Italian theatres of war more than 1,000 Italian aircraft not excluding considerable German losses in the same area.

On the Western Front, nearly 3,200 German aircraft were destroyed in air battles alone and there was much evidence of further extensive losses of grounded aircraft.

A warning that mastery of the air in Africa and over the Channel in daylight does not reflect some sudden or permanent collapse even locally of the Luftwaffe, the Times examines the German propaganda use of Luftwaffe in the war of nerves.

MOST FANTASTIC

"Some recent estimates of the strength of the Luftwaffe are most fantastic. No doubt it possesses great reserves, but some evidence of the exaggeration of its operational strength at any moment is afforded by authoritative estimates, a number available for operations in eastern theatres of war."

"These estimates put between 500 and 600 German aircraft in Rumania and Bulgaria and rather more in Italian territory. No doubt the Luftwaffe remains on the western front, but these figures are enough to show the absurdity of the ideas now circulated about the total operational or first-line strength."

NEARER MARK

"One rumour put this strength at 35,000 machines whereas an expert though unofficial examination suggests 6,000 may be nearer the mark."

Even such strength as this is ample justification to justify the Prime Minister's warning that we must expect heavier bombing than any yet experienced, and in particular heavier bombing on our ships.

"Indeed, two outstanding problems of the R.A.F. are the old problem of night bomber and the newer problem of commerce raider."

The Times points out recent night raids were on a smaller scale and more localised, and the enemy consistently lost machines, not only above this country but when leaving and returning to bases.

MORE EXPENSIVE

"It is now possible to say night operations will become more expensive—certainly to the enemy and not improbably to both sides."

The problem of the commerce raider requires no little new technique. It is largely a matter of enough long range machines.

Asking what are the prospects of the R.A.F. with vast and varied tasks, the paper answers the prospects are excellent because of the quality of men and machines, and the vistas of reserves of both are now opening up, and last but not least, because of the intense longing for our victory existing in every land which it is felt is a feeling of fears of the result of a German victory."

HEROISM OF INDIAN SOLDIERS

NEW DELHI, Mar. 7 (Reuter).—Reports of many individual acts of heroism by Indian troops in the Eritrea campaign have now reached India.

One Indian commissioned officer led his men above ground swept by machine-gun fire at Gogal and gained a steep ridge. The party withstood several enemy counter-attacks in strength but at last was forced to vacate the position.

Although he was wounded, the officer led all the men back to safety.

During the same action, an Indian stretcher bearer, who was bringing back a wounded sepoy, was almost surrounded by the enemy. He seized the sepoy's rifle, beat off the enemy and brought back the sepoy.

OVERWHELMING ODDS

In another case, a Dogra machine-gunner kept firing his gun in face of overwhelming odds, inflicting many casualties until killed by bombs. After the enemy were driven off, his body was found beside his gun, his finger still on the trigger.

Great gallantry was shown by a young Punjabi sepoy who went with a small party through a hail of fire and destroyed an enemy machine-gun post. He beat off a counter-attack by setting his gun near a disabled enemy machine-gun.

Later he leapt onto a parapet and cheered his comrades on. Although wounded in both legs, he refused to be carried and walked to the dressing station.

The part played by Indian sappers and miners in engagements in Eritrea is specially noteworthy. Between Jan. 22 and Feb. 2, they removed no fewer than 575 mines and also attended to blown-up bridges near Alamale.

About 190 mines were removed from Barentu defences alone.

FINE CO-OPERATION

The operations were notable for the excellent co-operation between British and Indian troops. Punjab and a British battalion shared the honours in the attack on a ridge across the Alcot road on Feb. 25. The Punjab made a fierce assault and gained the objective.

They were subjected to a counter-attack and forced to withdraw, but later renewed the attack and took the ridge.

Punjab and other frontier force battalions partook in the capture of Alamale. After negotiating rough country, they launched a frontal attack accompanied by a flanking movement. Alamale fell and yet more prisoners and war material captured.

HITLER'S NOTE TO INEUNU

VAGUE ASSURANCES TO TURKS

ANKARA, Mar. 7 (Reuter).—Although no definite details about the message Herr Hitler sent to President Ineunu are yet available, it is rumoured here that the message is full of general assurances but contains nothing of a concrete nature.

Not a single Turk or a well-informed foreigner here believes the message will in any way alter the Turkish policy.

It is significant that the Turkish papers ignore Herr Hitler's message.

AUSTRALIA-JAPAN WAR DISCOUNTED

MELBOURNE, Mar. 7 (Reuter).—Mr. R. G. Menzies' speech in London last Monday discounting the inevitability of a conflict between Australia and Japan caused no dissent in the Commonwealth Cabinet, stated Mr. A. W. Fadden, Acting Prime Minister.

Information now received by the War Council has checked labour criticism of the speech.

CANADIAN TROOPS

Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, who is shortly leaving London for Canada to take up the post of High Commissioner, spoke to members of the Canadian contingent now in England, states a London message.

He said afterwards that he found many examples of the fine organisation of the Canadian troops and he was looking forward to a study at close range of the Empire Air Training Scheme on which Britain was depending more and more for her airmen.—(Special).

Nord Sailors Decorated

ROYAL INSPECTION OF ROSYTH FLEET

LONDON, Mar. 7 (Reuter).—Watched by a crowd of officers and men from warships, His Majesty the King yesterday decorated three Norwegian sailors with the British Distinguished Service Medal and also decorated eight seamen, Petty Officers and a Marine of the British Navy.

With Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Ramsay, Commander-in-Chief at Rosyth, the King boarded two warships and other warcraft which chase U-boats and sweep mines.

Belgian and Norwegian naval ratings mingled with British sailors and cheered him as he walked from the jetty.

The King also visited the Fleet Air Arm and earlier at Edinburgh, the King and Queen visited the first Community Feeding Centre in Scotland where 150 people were enjoying a lunch of soup, roast beef, vegetables and sweets at a cost of 11d.

The Queen christened a catapult for a warship, and in the factory the King and Queen had a long talk about trade unionism with three shop stewards.

LOFOTEN RAID

LONDON, Mar. 7 (Reuter).—Norwegian circles in London yesterday expressed great satisfaction at their forces' part in the Lofoten raid.

It is understood that over 300 Norwegian patriots were brought back to join their fellow countrymen in this country.

ITALIANS IN ADDIS ABABA PREPARING FOR SIEGE

LONDON, Mar. 7 (Reuter).—Italians in Addis Ababa are preparing for a siege of the capital. The DAILY TELEGRAPH Special correspondent at Khartoum writes: "The revolt has now flared up in the key province of Shoa and spread to the gates of Addis Ababa."

"Italians are taking such stringent precautions against this new threat that the capital today is like a vast concentration camp."

DARING TREK

"The details of the latest developments were given me by an English-speaking Abyssinian civilian who left the capital beginning of last month and just reached our lines after a daring trek over the mountains in Abyssinia and Eritrea."

When he left, the capital had been turned into entirely an Italian city.

Mistrusting the Abyssinians, the Italians had removed them to a specially built native town several miles off.

The capital is surrounded by the most elaborate barbed wire defences and only entrances to those at the main road gates are held by machine-gun guards.

Stringent precautions are taken to ensure that only completely trustworthy people leave or enter and after sunset none may enter.

RENOWNED MAN

The Chief of the Patriot Leaders participating in guerilla siege of Addis Ababa is the renowned Arregai, Commander Battalion of the Imperial Guard under the Emperor, and Police Chief of the city from 1935 till the evacuation.

He heads the secret league called the Society of Abyssinian Braves which is in constant communication with the Emperor.

Under his leadership is at least one woman general who, a month ago, headed a serious revolt at the key point of Addis Alam, less than fifty miles from the capital on the Great West Road to Gore, Gambela and Asosa.

EFFICIENCY OF NEW WARSHIPS

Admiral Sir John Tovey, Commander-in-Chief of the Home Fleet, spoke highly of the efficiency of the new warships and said that they already incorporated lessons learned in this war. H.M.S. King George V had proved its worth and the 50 American destroyers were very valuable.

The London message added that Admiral Tovey stated the Royal Navy now had the finest personnel and throughout the Fleet there was one dominating wish and that was to contact the enemy.—(Special).

SHOOTING OF DETECTIVE IN SHATAUKOK RECALLED AT TAIPO DISTRICT COURT

Arrest Of Accused Effected In Strange Circumstances

FUSILLADE OF FIRE IN DARK

Committal proceedings on a charge of murder against a man named IP KI, alleged to be one of a gang of seven or more men involved in a robbery on the premises of the Yat San Chang Grocery Shop in Old Main Street, Shataukok, were commenced at the District Court North, Tai Po, yesterday before Mr. T. J. Houston.

The murder charge arises out of the shooting of LEE YIN, DETECTIVE C490, who met his death about 7 p.m. on January 24 in dramatic circumstances, falling on his face with two bullets in his head as a fusillade of revolver fire out of the dark stopped his advance and that of another Chinese detective, P.C.641 Chan Hung, wounded in the arm, who were hurrying to the scene.

The two detectives were hastening to investigate the report of a foki of the Yat San Chang named Wu Chung-kong, who had come to them with the story that as he had returned to the store and attempted to enter, he was warned to leave by a man who brandished a revolver through the peephole in the door and announced that the store was not doing business.

Det.-Insp. L. R. Whant, in outlining the case for the prosecution, said that Li Yim, the deceased, had been stationed at Shataukok since Feb., 1939. His death in Old Main Street on the evening of Jan. 24 resulted from gunshot wounds in the head. The murder, the prosecution would seek to prove, could be linked with a robbery at the Yat San Chang Grocery Shop that same evening.

THRIVING SHOP

The Yat San Chang Grocery Store was a thriving little shop that dealt principally with travelling traders entering Shataukok from Chinese territory and had a daily turnover of $4,000 to $5,000 in Chinese currency. It was managed by Ko Lai-sang, a spinster, who employed 20 foks. It was opened daily at daybreak and closed about 6.30 p.m. It had doors at the front and back, both closing from the inside.

On the evening of the robbery, Ko had sent a foki, Wu Chung-kong, with a New Year gift of cigarettes for Detective Chan Hung at Shataukok Police Station. The foki met Detective Chan at the barbed wire barrier near the entrance to Old Main Street, where he was in company with the deceased.

While the foki was so engaged, the robbery was being effected at the grocery store. A voice outside the store inquired if there were soy beans for sale inside, and one of the foks slipped back the peephole, offering a sample that the man outside claimed immediately was not of a variety large enough.

$2,300 TAKEN

The door into the store was then opened, and the man outside entered with another man who was also seen originally to be in his company. These two were followed by five other men, one of whom drew a revolver. Laying their hands on everything of value, the robbers had soon taken $2,300 in Chinese currency, $143 in Hong-kong currency and 70 tins of cigarettes.

The mistress, Ko Lai-sang, was taken up to the first floor but there she managed to elude the robbers and gained admission to the adjoining house where she heard sounds of revolvers being fired in the street.

About this time, the foki, Wu Chung-kong, returned to the store and sought to gain admission through the front door. The peephole was opened, and he saw a man inside brandishing a revolver who informed him that there was nothing to sell inside and warned him to go away.

HURRIED BACK

The two detectives had been patrolling in Old Main Street when Wu left them, and he hurried back to find that they were coming up the street in his direction. He ran up to them and made a report to the deceased of the incident in the doorway.

Deceased and Detective Chan hastened their step and advanced toward the Grocery Store with Wu bringing up the rear. A fusillade of shots from the dark met them and deceased fell on his face while Chan and the foki ran for shelter.

Both these witnesses would say, Insp. Whant continued, that it was an almost impossible task to identify any of the men who had fired the shots as the nearest appeared to be at least two shops away. After having taken shelter for a moment, Chan, who was wounded, made a report at the nearest police blockhouse and

SQUANDERMANIA

THE DEBATE in the Finance Committee of the Legislative Council on the removal and disposal of nightsoil provided another example of the determined attitude which the representatives of the people in this Colony have taken up to put a stop to the care-free spending methods of the Government. That the subject of the debate is of vital importance to the health of the Colony is not denied. Indeed, this aspect loomed largely in the arguments which were put forward by the unofficial speakers, who showed a full realisation of the situation and who were gravely concerned that something should be done to remedy a situation which the Director of Medical Services aptly described as chaotic. If unofficial opinion doubted the ability of the Government to make everything in the nightsoil garden lovely by the adoption of a $400,000 a year scheme, this doubt is based on previous experience of Government failures to justify expenditure of such sums to the satisfaction of the public. There have certainly been more than one instance of this inefficiency and reckless spending in recent times. It is hard to understand, therefore, why so much official resentment should be displayed when a recommendation for a more economical plan for dealing with the nightsoil problem is put forward in a spirit which takes fully into account the tremendous burdens which the Colony has had to share under the stress of present difficult times.

THE ADMISSION by the Government spokesmen that it has not been possible to enforce the law and proper supervision over the present system of nightsoil removal is hardly a guarantee that the enforcement of the law and supervision will be better just because 2,000 coolies will work under the aegis of a Government department. In fact, the admission supports the contention that malpractices will probably increase to the public inconvenience when these newly-fledged Government servants are invested with authority to deal with a matter on which the health of the population is so dependent. The example of the transfer of garbage collection was somewhat unfortunately we think—brought in to support the Government's case, when there is the clearest evidence daily to back Mr. Dodwell's statement that he did not think the system of scavenging was in any way better to what it was before Government took over control, to judge from the condition of our streets. As a matter of fact, the present method of scavenging is entirely unsatisfactory and instances of the high-handed manner in which the coolies of the Sanitary Department behave towards householders

CORRESPONDENCE

A DISCLAIMER

The Editor, H.K. Daily Press
Dear Sir,—With reference to recent articles in your publication on the Rex v. Jacobs case in the criminal court.

I would greatly appreciate it, if you could publish the fact that the soldier witness named "Bright" has no connexion with myself as owing to the fact that I belong to the same unit as the accused, and majority of the witnesses, it could be reasonably assumed that I am the witness in question.

The soldier named "Bright" who is giving evidence, belongs in fact to the Middlesex Regiment.

Thanking you in anticipation,
Yours faithfully,

have by no means been few or far between. It is a common sight to see half the contents of a garbage basket or box left in the road owing to the negligent manner in which its contents have been emptied into the lorries.

IN THESE circumstances it seems unreasonable for the Government to persist in the adoption of an expensive scheme, which the Colony can ill-afford now, without giving every other economical plan a fair chance to prove whether it can improve the present unsatisfactory system. That there is profit-making in this most unpleasant of occupations is undeniable. The eagerness with which one party has offered to comply with any conditions which the Government might require of it and to even contribute a substantial sum to any charity named by the Government proves this, but it also indicates that it will take meticulous care to see that the work is done satisfactorily. Supervision organised on foolproof lines by the Government will not, in such a case, be as difficult as the Government spokesmen tried to make out and the public might well look forward to an alleviation of the present position if the Government is prepared to consider this suggestion and put it into practice under its own strict guidance. There is no reason why 2,000 coolies employed by a guild or contractor should fall to do their work better than 2,000 coolies wearing hat bands marked "Sanitary Department," if Government vigilance is exercised as it should have been all along, without indulging in its present mood of squandermania.

"THE GREAT DICTATOR" HAS GREAT PREMIERE

Distinguished Audience At Lee Theatre

Charles Chaplin's "THE GREAT DICTATOR" was greeted with a full share of enthusiasm by the public of Hongkong when it had its gala premiere at the Lee Theatre last night, the "first-nighters" including many notable figures in local society.

The picture was of Chaplin's best and the great comedian excelled especially in his Hitlerian antics, his oratory and the Prussian clip with which he exhorted the masses of Tomania leaving Adolf Hitler a good second.

In the first night audience were H. E. Major-General A. E. Grasett, Sir Vandeleur Grayburn and party, Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, Hon. Mr. A. L. Shields, Dr. Mei Lan-fang, Mr. O. K. Yui, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Turner, Mr. D. Chang, Lt.-Col. H. L. Murrow, Mr. A. S. Mackichan, Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones, Lt.-Col. H. B. L. Dowbiggin, Brig. T. McLeod and Mrs. McLeod, Mr. D. H. Black, Mr. and Mrs. E. Tebbutt and many others.

A NEW CHAPLIN

A new Chaplin is born in The Great Dictator: one with vision, one with grip on the common affairs of common people, one who has satire and tragedy to bring home to the oppressed of all nations the unscrupulousness, yes even mania, inherent in a dictator class.

Chaplin proves himself not only a pantaloone—and there are many touches of the old Chaplin in this masterly production—but also an actor capable of playing on one's emotions as well as entertaining us by well timed gags.

The production opens with the defeat of Tomania, then comes the rise of the defeated country, the advent of a dictator, Hynkel, and the oppression of the Jews. Our little private is a Jewish barber.

Later, Hynkel is mistaken for a fugitive and the barber enters Gesterlich as a conqueror, having been hailed as the dictator.

PLEA FOR FREEDOM

He has to make a speech, Chaplin speaks, and speaks brilliantly for six minutes in a plea for the freedom of mankind and on this clever piece of oratory the film ends.

Jack Oakie rises to his opportunities magnificently in the role of Napoléon, Dictator of Bacteria. As Captain Schultz, Reginald Gardiner typifies the pre-war military class with a certain sympathy, Henry Daniell is subtly poison-minded as Grabitsch, Hynkel's propaganda minister, and Billy Gilbert is literally broadly farcical as his chief of staff, Herring.

Paulette Goddard as Hannah, brings out the spirit of courage and resolution which helps to lighten the lot of oppressed people, and Maurice Moscovitch, playing on wholly serious vein, suggests strength and resignation as her father.

The Great Dictator was written and directed by Charles Chaplin.

APPEAL FOR GIFT OF BINOCULARS

The Secretary of State for the Colonies has asked His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government to appeal to the people of Hongkong to give their private binoculars to His Majesty's Government for the use of the fighting services. It is hardly necessary to stress the value of such instruments to all branches of the Navy, Army and Air Force. They are in constant use and the needs of the services in this respect are expected to increase as the war proceeds.

Other parts of the Empire have already co-operated willingly in the scheme and His Excellency is confident that the response from Hongkong will not be less generous than that of other Colonies.

His Majesty's Government requires prismatic binoculars of 6, 7 or 8 magnification which are in good order. In order that this Government may have a record of these gifts, and that they may be suitably acknowledged by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, donors are asked to attach to each pair a label showing their names and addresses.

All binoculars, enclosed in their cases where these are available, should be sent to the Director of Supply, War Supplies Board, Garrison School Building, Garden Road, Hongkong.

First A.N.S. Dance Is Big Success

Unqualified success attended the first cabaret supper-dance of the AUXILIARY NURSING SERVICE held at the Peninsula Hotel last night under the distinguished patronage of H.E. the Officer Administering the Government, Lt.-Gen. E. F. Norton, C.B., D.S.O., M.C.

Over 900 people attended and the cabaret items presented were thoroughly enjoyed.

Rhexie Stalker, Nan Moodie, Bingo Parsons, Mary Sterling, Margaret Guttinger, Marjorie Fordham and Eileen Grant, all members of the Auxiliary Nursing Service, presented "Shepherds Hey," an exceptionally fine dance number while the "Wanchai Brothers" added no small measure of success to the programme.

Members of the A.N.S. acted as dance hostesses and there were novelty bars and competitions.

AN AUCTION

In the course of the evening the following articles were auctioned: One Kodak camera (donated by Mrs. F. C. Barry), ivory figure (donated by Mrs. Eu Tong-sen), and two A.N.S. dolls (presented by Mrs. Perdue and Mrs. Crabbe, respectively).

There was also a raffle, the prizes being a dress and hat donated by "Eunice" and a wireless set which was donated anonymously.

The dance was in aid of the Bomber Fund and a substantial sum was realised.

EXCEEDINGLY KEEN BIDDING

AT LAND SALE

Exceedingly keen bidding was witnessed at the District Office, South, yesterday morning when 10 lots were sold by public auction.

Four building and four agricultural lots at Kau Pa Kang were sold to four purchasers, whilst two lots at Lamma was sold to Mr. Ts. Tam Fuk. The remaining lot, at Sam Tung Uk, with an area of 43 acres was purchased by Messrs. Chan Wing-in and Ip Tak-fan.

The prices paid were $450 (2,160 square feet), $215 (4,500 square feet), $169 (2,500 square feet), $82 (1,290 square feet) for the building lots at Kau Pa Kang against the upset prices of $87, $90, $50, $28, respectively. The agricultural lots in this district were sold for $16 (22 acres), $185 (.93 acre), $153 (.71 acre) and $52 (.20 acre), against upset prices of $24, $102, $77, and $22.

The two lots at Lamma were sold for $21 and $18, with upset prices of $16 and $12, while the lot at Sam Tung Uk was sold for $401 against the upset price of $105.

NIPPON WOOLING RUSSIA FOR A NON-AGGRESSION PACT

Relations Between The Two States Analysed By Times

LONDON, March 7 (Reuter).—The London Times yesterday published a special article dealing with relations between Japan and the Soviet in the Far East. The present phase of Russo-Japanese relations, the article declared, can be traced back to the autumn of 1931, when Japan achieved the conquest of Manchuria.

Japan had been the object of suspicion to the Soviet regime ever since the prolonged occupation of Russian territory by Japanese troops during and after the Kolchak episode, eastern Siberia not being finally evacuated till 1922 and northern Saghalien not until 1925, when Japan first officially recognised the Soviet Government.

These suspicions were reciprocated at Tokyo, where the supposed designs of the Comintern were a favourite bugbear.

But there was little contact between the two countries during these years and official relations, while formally correct, were wholly uneventful.

All this changed when Japan, through the establishment of the puppet state of Manchukuo, acquired a long common frontier with the Soviet and with Moscow's vassal state of Outer Mongolia. Frontier incidents became the order of the day.

OFFICIAL COGNIZANCE

In the next years official cognizance was taken of no fewer than 184 such incidents.

Most famous of them—the clash on the Amur River in the early summer of 1937—was a prelude to Japan's undeclared war on China, which opened in July, 1937.

Soviet Russia got the worst of the incident militarily and failed to react diplomatically and this revelation of weakness, popularly attributed to the recent purges in the party and army, was taken by Japan as an all-clear signal to embark on the great Chinese adventure.

In the Russo-Japanese negotiations throughout this period Soviet Russia was the suitor for a non-aggression pact, which was more than once proposed by her and rejected by Japan.

SECRET TEST OF PREPAREDNESS AGAINST GERMAN INVASION

LONDON, Mar. 7 (Reuter).—Britain's Home Defences were recently mobilised and emerged successfully from exacting and realistic operations against a supposed invading force, which, for the purposes of the test, were given every conceivable advantage.

Some details of the test were disclosed for the first time by the War Minister, Captain David Margesson, speaking in the House of Commons on the Army estimates.

Reviewing the past year, Captain Margesson foreshadowed an early publication of Lord Gort's dispatches of battles.

The British losses in the Middle East, including East Africa, from the end of November 1940 to February 11, 1941, totalled 1,774, of which 483 were killed. No doubt the task in Libya would have been sterner if we had been faced by German troops, but the weakness of the Italian opposition was not due primarily to weakened morale, for the Italian forces were well equipped, strongly entrenched and numerically superior, but to the brilliant use of supplies and manoeuvres by the British forces.

These operations were a prelude to greater struggles with our principal enemy. Our situation in June, 1940, after Dunkirk, was unenviable. Fortunately part of our expeditionary forces' reserve equipment had been stored in Britain, and stores were got away from depots south of the Somme. Furthermore the equipment en route from America to France was diverted to Britain and the transformation effected in one month was perhaps unequalled in history.

In a warm tribute to the gallant Greek operations, which "again proved that fortune favours the brave," Captain Margesson said that the Greeks, by their triumphant advance over difficult country in the depths of winter, had shown their neighbours that the small country possessed dauntless courage.

The Free French forces have already given gallant service in Libya, Eritrea, Italian Somaliland and elsewhere, and the Poles are only waiting for a chance to get at the enemy once again.

The position as regards equipment has greatly improved since last summer and gives some cause for confidence. Gaps still existing in some classes of equipment are closing weekly and with the aid of British and Dominion and Indian production and the growing American output, the time is not distant when we shall have an army fully equipped and fully trained.

HOME GUARDS We are not sitting tight inside our defences but are endeavouring daily to improve our system of static and mobile defence.

In the meantime the Home Guard is doing a fine job, notwithstanding some temporary shortage of equipment. As proof of the excellence of British material, Captain Margesson recalled the long-range desert patrols organised by General Wavell soon after Italy entered the war, exploring the Libyan desert.

FIREWOOD PRICE IS INCLUSIVE OF SAWING AND DELIVERY

"The price of 40 cabbies to a dollar includes sawing and delivery," said MR. W. J. ANDERSON, in an interview yesterday, when asked by a Hongkong Daily Press reporter whether dealers have a right to charge 10 cents for cutting and another five cents for delivering each dollar's worth of wood.

Replying to a further question, Mr. Anderson stated that he was fully aware of the fact that some dealers are still refusing to sell at the fixed price.

WILL SOON DROP

"They are, I suspect, holding on in the belief that the price will soon increase—that is, less cabbies to the dollar. Well, you can take it from me that far from the price increasing it will soon drop.

"So soon as our investigations are complete," went on Mr. Anderson, "I shall not hesitate to make full use of the powers granted me under the Emergency Regulations. The first thing I shall do with the profiteers is to cancel their licences and, without their permits, they will not be able to sell any firewood at all. I am determined to put a definite stop to the profiteering in firewood."

Weygand Back In Vichy

According to well-informed circles, mentioned in a Saigon message, General Weygand returned to Vichy to make contact with the Government after the recent modifications which have been carried out in the Vichy Cabinet.

General Weygand spent a long period in carrying out his inspection of the French Empire in Africa and is, therefore, one of the principal chiefs responsible for the management of the French Empire. One of his duties was to insure the French Empire against all outside attack and his interview with Marshal Petain is stated to have covered a full report on this subject.

Admiral Darlan, the Deputy Premier who was due back in Vichy yesterday was expected to interview Marshal Petain immediately after his arrival. (Special) his head. I reminded you all that the visit of Mr. Antony Eden and Sir John Dill to Ankara must have had an effect on the psychology of the situation. Their visit has brought a complete agreement of views with Turkey. Whilst in Ankara Mr. Eden also had a long talk with the British Ambassador in Moscow.

"There is no doubt, however, that the German adventure into Bulgaria has caused alarm to Yugoslavia. For some time past Germany has been very active in undermining the resistance of Yugoslavia."

Mr. Stead expressed the view that the manner in which the Italian aggression in Abyssinia and the annexation of Albania had been permitted to take place must have had an effect on Yugoslavia. Yugoslavians had seen Poland, Belgium, Holland and France go down before the German invasion so that it was not surprising that, despite British resistance in the Battle of Britain, Yugoslavia should think that Germany could not be defeated.

Oil Factory Destroyed

LONDON, March 7 (Reuter).—It is learned today that in addition to the damage inflicted on oil factories by the Allied forces which raided the Lofoten Islands, off Norway, an oil factory was destroyed at Stansund Island.

Herr von Terboven, the Nazi Governor in Norway, has left for the Lofoten Islands to get first-hand information on the British naval raid, according to the German Radio.

Enemy Forces Facing Kenya Shattered

NAIROBI, Mar. 7 (Reuter).—"Enemy forces facing Kenya have been shattered and most of them captured," General Smuts, South African Premier, declared in his message.

Recalling that the occupation of the Italians' main centres had been accomplished in record time after covering many miles over most forbidding terrain, Gen. Smuts added:

"This feat of arms, and especially of endurance, has been remarkable and one rivalling in its way the brilliant performances of the Army of the Nile in Libya."

"The Union of South Africa feels proud of this record."

GERMAN TROOPS

Some American reports declare that there are more than 100,000 German troops, including mechanised forces in Libya, but the voice of Germany and Italy is seen behind these statements, states a message from Sydney. (Special)

HITLER'S PROJECTED ATTACK ON BRITISH SHIPPING ANALYSED

"Whatever form Herr Hitler's projected invasion may take it is agreed that his main blows will be directed against our shipping," said MR. O. M. GREEN, Far Eastern Editor of Reuter's and well-known in Shanghai, when he broadcast in London yesterday in the series "Far Eastern Newsletter."

"There is, therefore, a great deal of speculation about the number of submarines which are to be used against us," went on Mr. Green.

"Some writers, in an effort to freeze our blood, are telling us that we must expect attacks from anything between 1,000 and 600. Our Naval authorities, however, describe these figures as fantastic."

A WIDE GAP

"No doubt Herr Hitler has been building submarines for all he is worth, but to judge from what the Germans accomplished in the last war there is a wide gap between plans and performance."

"Submarines cannot be mass produced. Inside is a mass of complicated and delicate apparatus which individual workmanship by skilled men, whose numbers, even in Germany, are limited. No doubt, Herr Hitler would have increased these numbers by the manner in which he has taken workers from the conquered countries, but somehow one does not see French, Dutch and Norwegian workers lending their skill to produce submarines."

AIR ATTACKS

Turning to the air attacks on shipping, Mr. Green said that Britain's Coastal Command aircraft would, no doubt, be able to take care of this. From the extended work which British aircraft have been doing lately, it was clear that their numbers have been increased since last autumn. As for pilots, there is certainly no shortage and between 20,000 and 25,000 of these men will be available by next September.

Mr. Green referred to the work of re-building the damage caused to buildings in Britain and referred to a plan which Lord Reith, Minister of Works and Buildings, had outlined to the House of Lords for the enforcement of re-building on national lines on a 50-year scheme. One feature of this plan was that agricultural land should not be built upon except in the severest need. (Special)

CATHOLIC NEWS & NOTES

LENTEN STATIONS: CHIEF JUSTICE OF CYPRUS: DEATH OF ARCHAEOLOGIST

Some people who use the Missal at Mass are puzzled by the mention of "Station at . . ." with the name of a church, before each day's Mass. This is a reference to a Roman custom that dates back many centuries. Formerly the Pope said Mass at one of the Roman churches every day in Lent, and the ceremony of his visit was called the "station"—a literal rendering of the Latin word which means just a visit. Though he no longer makes this round of visits there are special celebrations at the church that was designated for each day, and they now make up the "station".

The antiquity of this custom may be judged from the fact that the station assigned for tomorrow's Mass, "St. Mary in Dominica" was one of the last to be fixed. It was left vacant because of the length of the ceremony connected with the Mass of today, the last of the Lenten Ember-days.

The church given the name of "St. Mary in Dominica" was erected in memory of a Roman matron who owned some property which was at the disposal of the persecuted Christians.

CHIEF JUSTICE OF CYPRUS
Cyprus has been in the news more than usually in recent times, and may be even more prominent if trouble increases in the Eastern Mediterranean. The Chief Justice of Cyprus is a distinguished Catholic, Sir Bernard Crean, who was appointed to the post after four years' service in the like capacity in British Guiana.

Sir Bernard Crean is a Northern Irishman, the son of a prominent Catholic citizen of Belfast. It was in Ireland that he was educated and called to the Bar. His overseas service for the Empire began in British East Africa, where in 1920 he was Deputy Recorder of Tides; afterwards he spent about eight years as Resident Magistrate, with occasional periods as Acting Judge at Nairobi.

His present appointment was not his first acquaintance with the Cyprus Bench, for he was in the island as a Puisne Judge, from 1929 until he went, in 1934, to take up the Chief Justiceship in British Guiana.

DEATH OF ARCHAEOLOGIST
Archaeology lost one of its greatest figures and most prolific writers when Rev. Vincent Schell, O.P., died at San Sebastian, Spain, recently, at the age of eighty-two.

He entered the Dominican Order in 1882 and undertook his first important expedition (in Egypt) eight years later. He was asked by the Turkish Government to reorganize the Archaeological Museum in Constantinople in 1892, and in 1894 served as Secretary of an archaeological expedition in Persia. The following years saw him actively pursuing his investigations in Palestine and Asia Minor, the final results of which were given to the world in twenty-four large volumes published between the years 1902 and 1939.

Languages and dialects previously unknown were interpreted to the modern world for the first time by Father Schell, and archaeology is indebted to the last three volumes of his monumental work for the publication of 551 ancient documents which had not been previously edited.

His most famous contribution, and the one which won him world fame, was his interpretation of the Code of Hammurabi which now plays so prominent a part in the world's history books.

PRIEST SCIENTIST DIES
Rev. Guido Alfani, a scientist with a European reputation and director of the Ximenes Observatory in Florence since 1905 died there a short time ago after an illness of several weeks.

Born in Florence in 1878, Guido Alfani was ordained in 1898 and as an assistant at Ximenes Observatory two years later. Three separate nations offered him the directorship of their principal observatories not long after the first World War, but his predilection for Ximenes Observatory made him decline all these flattering offers.

His contribution to science may be gauged from the fact that a list of his writings drawn up ten years ago contains no less than sixty titles, while several scientific instruments were invented or perfected by him, one, the Alfani Altimeter, being named in his honour.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

31 Macdonnell Road. Service on Sunday. The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science churches will be "Man." The Golden Text will be: "Beloved now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is." (1 John 3: 2)

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible: "For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death." (Romans 8: 2).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "A knowledge of error and of its operations must precede that understanding of Truth which destroys error, until the entire mortal, material error finally disappears, and the eternal verity, man created by and of Spirit, is understood and recognized as the true likeness of his Maker. This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into Deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace." (Science and Health, Pages 252, 253).

SOLDIER FOUND GUILTY OF RAPE

Jury Retires For Over Hour

Following a retirement of 95 minutes the jury at the Criminal Sessions yesterday returned a 6-1 verdict of Guilty against PTE. FRANK KENNETH JACOBS, of the Royal Army Medical Corps, who was charged before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, with rape and indecent assault on an 18-year-old girl, MAN MUI-KWAI, alias Man Shiu-ying, at King's Park, on Jan. 16.

Mr. J. P. Murphy, Assistant Crown Solicitor, assisted by Det. Sgt. N. B. Fraser, prosecuted, while the accused was defended by Mr. George She, instructed by Mr. C. A. Sutherland Russ.

The jury comprised Messrs. G. T. Harrington (Foreman), Lui In-tso, C. Goldin, Ma Yue-man, Lee Gwok-ying, Chan Kam-shing and Tan Poh-keng.

At the continued hearing yesterday, Mr. Murphy, in the absence of the jury, submitted that having regard to the allegations made by the accused, he felt the jury might have doubts about the girl's story about the two nights she spent with Pte. J. Walton.

His Lordship said he had considered the point and would direct the jury that there was no evidence to show that the prosecutrix was not a perfectly virtuous girl.

GOOD CHARACTER

Lt.-Col. H. P. Rudolf, R.A.M.C., said that accused had a very good character.

In his submission, Mr. She pointed out that the medical evidence was more consistent with a voluntary act than of violence having been used.

Mr. Murphy argued that accused refuted his statement to Dorner because he realised that that was a damning piece of evidence against him.

Summing up, his Lordship said that it was one of the most unpleasant cases that came before the Court for many years and reminded the jury that, at all costs, racial difference must not be taken into consideration.

Returning the verdict the foreman added the jury felt that as the accused was led to a certain extent by the prosecutrix they strongly recommended leniency.

His Lordship postponed sentence until the next Sessions.

BRITISH STAYING POWER WILL BE VITAL FACTOR IN WAR, SAYS LABOUR M. P.

"This war is a war of staying power—the staying power of free Britain and a free Commonwealth against the staying power of the dictatorships and their slaves," said the RIGHT HONOURABLE H. B. LEES-SMITH, M.P., Chairman of the Parliamentary Labour Party, when he broadcast from London yesterday on why he thought democracy would triumph over the dictatorships.

"It is a war between democracy which treats men as men and dictatorships which treat men as sheep," went on Mr. Lees-Smith. "Because we treat men as men they can stand the shocks of war, whereas the dictatorships have no staying power because they have not learned to stay on their own feet. If in the tests of endurance that confront us we prove our contention, as we shall, this will be our war."

ITALY'S FAILURE

"This is the British democratic point of view and we have already put one of the dictators to the test. When Signor Mussolini came into power some people came back with ideas of how well Italy's plans were running and how much better this seemed to get things done."

"We had to take them at their own estimate and their bombastic speeches. Now at last we have discovered that it is a mixture of incompetence, of servility and of cowardice, and that it led to one of the most ignominious routs in the history of war. Nineteen years of dictatorship and a few reverses—and the Italian army is proved to have no staying power at all."

BRITISH EFFICIENCY

"Meanwhile, how does our democratic system emerge from this test? The Libyan campaign has not been only a test for our fighting men and the men from overseas, but a test for everyone of us at home. The Italian army at Benghazi was captured when our troops stood up to those storms and sand in the desert. They depended on their own endurance certainly, but also upon the completely reliable workmanship of the tanks on which their lives depended—tanks made in British workshops by British workers."

"These tanks did not let them down and the workers who made them are among the victorious men in Libya. They have reached a practical level of efficiency which they have achieved."

"We have put the quality of one dictator to the test and now the time approaches for our supreme trial of strength with the other. There is already convincing evidence that the quality of today's product of Nazism is well behind the quality of the British and even behind the quality of the German of the last war. Men who fought in the last war and those who have fought in this tell us that if you take the German of today out of his machine he is not as good as he was in 1914."

COMING TEST

"In this war, at the Battle of the River Plate, the German sailors did not show the same fighting spirit as they did in the Battle of Jutland. In the air, in this war the British pilot has fought three Germans. The young men of the Commonwealth have a genius for the air as we here have a genius for the sea. When the day comes when we are equal to the Nazis in tanks, guns and equipment, we will meet them on equal terms—the product of democracy against the product of the dictatorships."

"When will that day be? In my view Herr Hitler has a time limit within which must conquer this country or perish. That time limit is set by two factors—the arrival of our equipment from the United States and the strangulation of the German resources for war by the British blockade."

"The aid to Britain bill which the United States Senate is debating seems certain to be passed. Equipment from the United States will soon become a flow and will finally become a flood within the first half of next year, which will give us superiority over Germany and which will enable us to take the initiative."

"During about the same period, the power of the British blockade will have a decisive effect on the German war effort. Herr Hitler's time limit is, therefore, set for somewhere round a year hence. The future of Europe is now hanging upon the staying powers of Britain."

NAZI DOCTRINE

"We can picture what life in this country and Europe would be if during the next vital months British staying power broke down. Let me remind you of the Nazi doctrine and methods with which they compel the conquered people to obey that doctrine. The doctrine is that the Nazis are superior to all the rest of mankind and, therefore, that the rest must be removed to make room for the master race."

Here Mr. Lees-Smith described Nazi methods in Poland, which was the first country in which their doctrine was applied. He described how Polish workers were rounded up and sent off to Germany and not heard of again. The horrible manner in which they were herded into cattle-trucks and sent on an 18 days journey; so much so that when the doors of these cattle-trucks were opened, many of them were found to be dead.

"Polish girls were also seized and sent off to brothels in Germany for German soldiers and never heard of again," continued Mr. Lees-Smith.

"Against such deeds the very stones cry out and I have told them to you because the foul acts by the Nazis and the freedom of Europe and the world there stands only one power—the staying power of the people of this small island."

BRITISH SPIRIT

"Never have I been so proud of this country than when I consider how we have fought this fight when others thought we would follow the fate of France. It is a privilege to realise that we are living in that period when the people of the Commonwealth are carrying heavier responsibilities for the future of mankind than any other generations in our history."

"Yes—it is staying power. The men of the armed forces have proved that they have it. But they are no different from the rest of us. They are the spirit of Britain and the Commonwealth. Their spirit beats strongly in the hearts of their fathers, mothers, sisters, sweethearts and wives. That is why we shall win this war."

Had Forged Immigration Certificate

"This is a very serious crime you are found guilty of. I do not think you can be surprised at the verdict," said the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday when Fan Liu, 40, was found guilty on counts of uttering a forged certificate, purporting to be a certificate of entry into the Federated Malay States, possession of a forged seal, purporting to be the seal of the Assistant Immigration Officer, and possession of 18 forged certificates.

Mr. J. P. Murphy, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted, assisted by Insp. G. W. Moreton, of the S.C.A. The following comprised the jury:—Messrs. B. C. Randall (Foreman), Yu Chik-yn, T. H. Hutchison, Chan Fung-yn, J. O'Sullivan, J. A. de Soares and Leung Pik-hung.

Mr. T. Huggins, Assistant Immigration Officer, Singapore, testified that the seal and all the certificates were forgeries.

Accused, from the dock, denied that he knew the certificates were forged.

Sentence of 15 months' hard labour was imposed.

OPIMUM SUPPRESSION

Complete extirpation of the opium evil by more rigorous enforcement of the opium suppression measures, restriction on the right of provincial governments to float bonds and issue banknotes, establishment of overseas Chinese normal schools in Kwangtung and Fukien, development of coal mines in Kansu and other northwest provinces, and more appropriations of funds for the relief of war refugees in Hupeh were urged in a series of resolutions adopted at the meeting of the first session of the 2nd People's Political Council.

The resolutions have been referred to the Government for consideration and execution.—(Central News)
